TRANSFER TOOL:

Visit www.uctransfer.org for comprehensive information related to transferring to a UC.

TRANSFER MYTH?

The community college GPA won't affect future admission to graduate school.

NO: Graduate schools will look at all courses attempted if GPA is part of their admission criteria. Even though the community college is not where you received your degree, the courses will still count towards overall GPA.

Check out the Transfer Center website at www.sdmesa.net under Student Services for more workshop information, articulation agreements, 4-year university representative visits, and more!
